

Jorge Cortes, MD
Director, Georgia Cancer Center
Cecil F. Whitaker Jr., GRA Eminent Scholar Chair in Cancer

Jorge Cortes is the director for the Georgia Cancer Center and Cecil F. Whitaker Jr., GRA Eminent Scholar Chair in Cancer after spending the last 23 years at MD Anderson Cancer Center, where he was Deputy Chair Department of Leukemia, Chair of AML and CML Sections, and Leukemia Fellowship Program Director. He has authored more than 1200 manuscripts and led the development of 6 FDA approved drugs for leukemia. He is Director of the International CML Foundation, President of the Latin American LeukemiaNet, and Editor-in-Chief of Blood Global Hematology. He is a member of the National Academy of Medicine in Mexico and has received multiple awards, most recently the 2023 Michael J. Keating Outstanding Achievement Award.